ONE STOP SOLUTION
FOR DREAM WEDDINGS

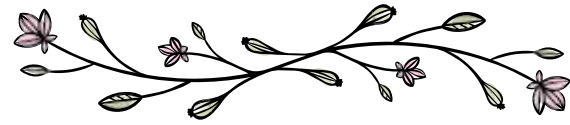

Word - Asad Waseem

The fascination for weddings in our society has not decreased a bit and we all eagerly wait for our 'Big Day'. In fact, weddings are celebrated like festivals in India, all because of our social milieu, sanctity of relationships and the rich heritage we carry in our genes. Over the past few decades there has been a striking change in the look and feel of an Indian wedding.

Gone are the days, when most weddings looked utterly monotonous and mundane. Devoid of any magnificence not much was spent on the decoration, ambience, costumes or food. Then in the 90's, globalization knocked on our doors and, people were exposed to international trends. A lot of new ideas made way into our society. Much can be credited to renowned global brands which through artists on foot tapping Bollywood numbers, the extensive list of delicacies and drinks, designer costumes and a guest list numbering in thousands makes up for a big fat Indian wedding.

Designer and destination weddings are gradually taking the center stage. These weddings imbibe high degree of personalization, sophistication and well planned execution. Each of the weddings ensures to give a unique everlasting impression. Of late, many wedding planning firms have jumped into the colossal Indian wedding market. Some have created milestones over time while some have lost to the immense competition. While researching about the wedding industry market and its players we stumbled upon FNP Weddings and Events. What really impressed us was that the company already has a great track record for successfully executing top notch weddings in India and UAE. We were also aware of the parent company Ferns N Petals which is a premier brand in floral solutions and had diversified into new sectors.

Ferns N Petals was established in the year 1994 by Mr. Vikaas Gutgutia- a man of exemplary vision. The company has evolved into a business conglomerate comprising FNP Retail, FNP E-commerce - India & UAE, FNP Cakes 'N' More, FNP Weddings & Events, Floral Touch - India & UAE, FNP Gardens, Flowers 'N' More, WDH (Wedding Design Hub) and Flagship by FNP.

Out of the above, FNP Weddings and Events has emerged as one of the most successful ventures. The company was founded in 1994, the same year when Mr. Vikaas Gutgutia had planted the sapling of Ferns N Petals. The company boasts of a glory of two decades of executing memorable wedding ceremonies. What differentiates Mr. Vikaas from the league is his ability to deliver exclusiveness and finesse in the wedding industry? This is evident from the fact that FNP Weddings and Events is the first ever company in the world to introduce the concept of 'Designer Weddings'.

While garnering success, the company has tied up with international florists and set designers. The company also ensures to strategize and execute weddings at par with global standards. The strong presence of Ferns N Petals, recorded through 253 flower boutiques in India and fresh flower deliveries in 156 countries leverages the performance of FNP Weddings and Events on to the next level.

From popular celebrities to successful entrepreneurs, from powerful industrialists to acclaimed designers, from famous politicians to respected bureaucrats, FNP Weddings and Events has created an impressive clientele. Owing to his immense success in the wedding industry, Mr. Vikaas Gutgutia launched FNP Gardens in 2008. This different venture aims to provide seven scenic and astonishing wedding venues in prime locations of Delhi - NCR. The venues are namely as follows: The Ritz, The Riviera- Gurugram, Udman-Mahipalpur, Vilasa- Kapashera, The Kundan- Kapashera, Shagun Farms- Bandh Road and Brij Greens- Chattarpur.

For long, people suffered from a delirium when it came to selecting venue for wedding. It was herculean task. While the best ones were already booked- during peak wedding season, some missed the panache while the rest failed to meet other requirements. Surprisingly, the solution came in the form of FNP Gardens. It offers venues which meet all kinds of benchmark. They are basically a combination of banquets and farmhouses designed as per the highest standards of aesthetics. The one stop hospitality services and enticing décor, at these venues, catapults any wedding into a heavenly affair. Moreover, the sprawling spaces, lush green lawns and ample parking space can easily accommodate large gatherings.

Wedding is one of the golden chapters of life. Every precious moment of it must be embraced with enthusiasm and euphoria. Any given chance for error or mismanagement robs of the charisma from the grand event. FNP Weddings and Events believe in catering effervescent wedding services for you. It believes in creating everlasting nuptial moments on which you can blush - even many years down the lane. With host of wedding services available in its parcel, it is a one stop solution for grandiose wedding experiences.
